

Round Roma – An Achievement with Every Image

Deb Neill has been taking photos since she was a teenager and was given her first SLR camera for her sixteenth birthday. Deb said “There’s something about light and shadows that has always intrigued me and to be able to capture a moment in time that will never come again has always attracted me to the camera lens”.

Arriving in Roma has its surprises, the architecture, the landscape and the people that live within the region are a constant source of attraction for Deb and she has found herself taking photos of things that others would normally take for granted.

Deb said “I’ve been here one year already and feel I haven’t even scratched the surface. I find beauty in corrugated iron, wildflowers and the wrinkled toes of newborn babies”. “I have a collection of pregnant mums and newborns that I treasure, life as it begins is truly wonderful and I feel so compelled to capture them in a photo, it’s a timeslot that cannot be repeated”.

A preference to take photos manually rather than automatically and that gives Deb a sense of achievement with every image, black and white photos have always been a favourite, there is something about leaving out the colour and relying on the imagination that motivates her.

Deb has taken a series of photographs in the area and named them “Round Roma” and has now produced them for sale onto blank cards. Each photo-card has an original photo and comes with an envelope to match. You’d be surprised at how many people still like to write to each other, whether they are travellers or just want to give a little gift, Sometimes a card is all you need to do that. You can see them for sale at The Big Rig, Golders of Roma and Lagoon Creek Jewellery.
